MEMORANDUM FOR SENIOR DIRECTOR, RECORDS ACCESS AND INFORMATION
SECURITY MANAGEMENT, NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL

SUBJECT: Department of Defense Response to National Security Council Argentina
Declassification Project

This memorandum provides a summary of the Department of Defense's (DoD) participation in the Argentina Declassification Project. The June 13, 2016 task directed agencies to search for records relating to human rights abuses committed in Argentina from January 1, 1975 through December 31, 1984 and review responsive records for public release. The DoD Chief Information Officer (CIO) tasked DoD Components to complete a search and review of their records holdings.

Under the oversight of the Office of the Director for Defense Intelligence (Counterintelligence, Law Enforcement & Security), Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence, the Records, Privacy, and Declassification Division (RPDD), Washington Headquarters Service (WHS) served as the project lead to coordinate the responses from all DoD Components. RPDD distributed the Presidential Task and the accompanying DoD CIO memorandum to DoD Components including a 19-page comprehensive list of key terms (TAB A). RPDD also advised DoD components to provide specific information about their search, identify the office responsible for the search, and to search both their electronic systems and paper records series.

In response, the Heads of DoD Components assembled staff, including records managers, historians, freedom of information specialists and declassification specialists, and developed a plan to complete the task. Each Component used search strategies tailored to their specific missions and record-keeping systems. Searches were focused on those record series determined to likely contain responsive records in paper files and electronic document files on classified and unclassified systems. In determining responsiveness, DoD evaluated records erring on the side of inclusiveness. Records determined to be responsive were reviewed for public access on a word-for-word basis, using standards established in section 3 of Executive Order 13526, "Classified National Security Information," and common public release standards agreed to by all participating agencies.

Overall, DoD located 872 records totaling approximately 11,302 pages. DoD declassified 217 records in full consisting of 3,360 pages, declassified 540 records in part consisting of 7,142 pages (589 pages from this set were withheld in full and therefore were excluded from the partially released total). Further, 115 records were fully withheld from release totaling 211 pages. DoD assigned more than 240 personnel and spent more than 13,000 hours working diligently to complete the task.

A list of all DoD Components that conducted searches and whether responsive records were found is at TAB B. The individual summaries of the processes and the methodologies used by the DoD Components that had responsive records, the staff and time involved in the search, and a list of all record series searched, along with the results are provided in TABS C-J. Should you have any questions, please contact Mrs. Donna Rivera at 703-692-3729 or donna.e.rivera.civ@mail.mil.

OSD/WHS SUMMARY OF ACTIONS – ARGENTINA DECLASSIFICATION PROJECT

This document provides a summary of the OSD/WHS search for and declassification review of records relating to human rights abuses during Argentina's "Dirty War", as requested by the National Security Council, Chair of the Records, Access and Information Security Policy Coordinating Committee. As directed, we utilized search strategies tailored to OSD's specific missions and record-keeping systems. Our staff conducted searches that erred on the side of inclusiveness, searching both electronic and hard copy files in classified and unclassified systems.

Search Methodology (search terms, date range, and records series)

Through CATMS tasking by the DoD CIO, the OSD/WHS, Records, Privacy, and Declassification Division (RPDD) distributed the task to OSD and DoD Record Managers/Agencies and asked that they conduct a search of their records to identify potentially responsive records (see attached DoD CIO Tasking). OSD records managers conducted searches, inclusive of paper and electronic records associated to Records Group 330 encompassing OSD Components, the OSD Historian, OSD/JS FOIA Office, the Office of Prepublication and Security Review, and the holdings of the National Archives - (National Declassification Center (NDC) and Washington National Records Center (WRNC)). Although this request was inclusive to all OSD Components, RPDD specifically targeted our search request to OSD Components that would potentially hold responsive records. RPDD also searched the OSD SF-135 database in coordination with the OSD Executive Archive (a records repository for high-level OSD offices that contains over 40 million pages) for responsive documents.

The approximate total number of hours worked for the Argentina effort:

- 3,500 hours
- 17 Contractors
- 3 OSD/WHS Government Employees
- 3 OSD Historian Government Employees

Records Deemed Responsive (summary of content)

Attached is a list of records OSD deemed responsive to the search and identifying information as to their locations within our records. Overall, OSD located 300 responsive documents totaling 8,673 pages. Of the 8,673 total pages, 3,728 pages were determined responsive to the Presidential Tasking and therefore processed for public release.

Results are as follows:

- OSD Components: No responsive records were found in current holdings; potentially due to the age and having been retired at WNRC.
- OSD Historian: The OSD Historian initially searched through their archival holdings and their oral history program using the key words provided and found no responsive documents. However as a result of working closer with NSC staff & RPDD, the Historian's Office recommended to search additional boxes held at WNRC to RPDD within accessions previously reviewed for the project. The results from their WNRC search recommendations are covered in the WNRC section of this narrative. The Historian's Office also identified 20 documents (70 pages) it had compiled from other OSD archives from its research for the Secretaries of Defense Historical Series publication documenting the tenure of Secretary of Defense Harold Brown during the Carter administration. The results reflected:

- 19 total documents (62 pages). OSD completed a review of these records and determined they could be released in their entirety. However, documents contain other Government agency information and required review by those agencies.
- 1 document (8 pages). OSD completed a review of this record and determined it could be released in part and was sanitized. It also contains the information of other Government agencies and requires review by those agencies.
- OSD Mandatory Declassification Review (MDR) Office: A search of the OSD MDR Database yielded 2 responsive records:
  - 1 document (20 pages) that was released in its entirety by OSD; originated from the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library.
  - 1 document (1 page) that was released in its entirety by OSD; originated from a request by the OSD Historian.
- DoD Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) Office: A search of the FOIA online library yielded no responsive documents.
- DoD Office of Prepublication and Security Review (DOPSR): A search of DOPSR's database repository yielded no responsive documents
- National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) accessioned records: OSD has not yet accessioned records to NARA from this time period. Staff at the National Declassification Center (NDC) provided OSD with a spreadsheet of 149 cubic feet of RG 330 records it recommended OSD search. OSD determined these records pre-dated the tasker and therefore were non-responsive.
- Washington National Records Center (WNRC): OSD Staff searched the OSD Executive Archive - an electronic repository of permanent OSD historical and sensitive records (holding approximately 40 million pages) from 1946 to present and SF 135s to identify series and documents within RG 330 where there might be responsive records. In all, OSD staff identified 38 accession series totaling 242 Federal Records Center boxes for document-level review which were then scanned and searched; yielding approximately 3,000,000 pages to search for related terms, resulting in 535 documents totaling 20,967 pages to undergo further detailed relevancy screening. This additional vetting removed false positive documents and/or documents not relating to the search terms (i.e. a document containing one of the search terms but not connected to Argentina), although some records were erred on the side of inclusiveness. Of those 535 documents, detailed screening results yielded:
  - 273 total documents (3,502 pages) of which OSD has no objection to release in full, however some documents are subject to review by other agencies.
  - 2 documents (120 pages) of which OSD has no objection to release in part due to Classified National Security Information considerations and subject to review by other agencies.

- 3 documents (15 pages) of which OSD has no objection to release in part due to FOIA considerations under exemption FOIA (b)(6).
- Through our review we determined referrals are required for:

*One responsive document in particular was originated by the U.S. - Canada Permanent Joint Board on Defense. This document is jointly classified by the U.S. and Canada which would require the Government of Canada to review prior to public release. After consulting with the Department of State (DOS), it was determined that DOS cannot review for public release on Canada's behalf. Therefore due to country restrictions, we were unable to process the document for public release. The document was relevant to the Presidential Tasker as it contained information related to U.S./Canadian development of foreign/military relations with Argentina in the context of the Falklands War.

Information that Requires Restriction

OSD outlined specific portions/pages of documents as "Non Responsive" in our review of the records for public release, therefore for this Presidential Tasking those portions were not processed for public release. Of the portions of the documents reviewed for release: for 294 documents OSD had no objection to release in their entirety. For 2 documents OSD partially released for Classified National Security Information reasons; OSD information is exempt from release per Executive Order 13526 "Classified National Security Information," Sections 3.3(b)(1),(6), and 6.2(a). Section 3.3(b)(1) protects information that could be expected to reveal the identity of a confidential human source, a human intelligence source, a relationship with an intelligence or security service of a foreign government or international organization, or a nonhuman intelligence source; or impair the effectiveness of an intelligence method currently in use, available for use, or under development. Section 3.3(b)(6) protects foreign government information that would cause serious harm to relations between the United States and a foreign government, or to ongoing diplomatic activities of the United States. Section 6.2(a) protects "Restricted Data" and "Formerly Restricted Data" information in conformity with the provisions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and regulations issued under that Act. For 3 documents OSD partially released for Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) reasons; OSD information is exempt from release per FOIA, 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(6). FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6) protects information which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of certain individuals. Lastly as explained above, 1 document was excluded from review due to country restrictions.

Record Review/Release Summary

In summation, due to the review decisions made by OSD and the other agencies that contained equity in the responsive documents (listed in the Agency Referral Table above), the totals for OSD's found records for this project are as follows: 300 total documents/3,278 total pages, 170 records released in full/2,663 pages released in full, 129 records released in part/1,044 pages released in part (*10 pages from this set were withheld in full and therefore excluded from the partially released pages total), and 1 record excluded from review/11 pages excluded from review.

Questions regarding the OSD's search and review should be directed to George Sturgis, Deputy Chief, Records, Privacy, and Declassification Division, 571-372-0483, or email: george.r.sturgis.civ@mail.mil

SUBJECT: Response to Presidential Tasking – Argentina Declassification

In response to the Presidential tasking, the Office of the Security of Defense (OSD), Washington Headquarters Services (WHS) has completed the required search for records relating to human rights abuses during Argentina’s “Dirty War.”

OSD/WHS used search strategies tailored to our specific missions and record-keeping systems to uncover relevant records in our holdings. Search details and methodologies, including searches of electronic files in classified and unclassified systems, as well as hardcopy files are attached.

We will coordinate with your office to provide disc copies, as well as post relevant records (redacted or released-in-full) for public access by the coordinated suspense dates. SUBJECT: Argentina Declassification Project

In response to a request from Argentinian President Marcri, the White House has committed to providing information related to Argentina's "Dirty War". The Department has been tasked to review relevant documents that shed light on human rights abuses, terrorism, and acts of political violence between January 1, 1975, and December 31, 1984. Specifically, DoD is to identify relevant materials based on the search terms provided, and review the materials for declassification and public release (Attachment 1).

Additional background information on this request from the National Security Council (NSC) is provided (Attachment 2), and includes the list of search terms Components should use to identify and retrieve responsive documents for declassification review. The first phase of this process requires Components to search their records and records series to identify potentially responsive material. Components are then tasked to conduct declassification and public release reviews, and provide relevant material to this office for ultimate release to the NSC and the Office of the Director of National Intelligence.

Components are directed to conduct a search of all files and information that may be relevant to this request and release all information except information that continues to meet the standards for national security classification under Executive Order 13526, "Classified National Security Information," information prohibited by statute, personal privacy, sensitive law enforcement information, or information which could cause serious and identifiable harm to the deliberative process.

Request each Component:

1. Acknowledge receipt of this memo via email to the Points of Contact listed below, no later than two weeks after receipt (osd.mc-alex.dod-cio.mbx.records_datacall@mail.mil). The email should include name and contact information (telephone and email) of individuals who are responsible for the search and review for public release of the subject information.

2. Conduct a thorough search of all the records (regardless of media), documents, materials, databases, and other holdings in your organization's custody or control (i.e. accessioned records or FOIA requests), whether classified or not, that may be relevant to this request.
3. Provide this office with the following information using the template at TAB C, no later than September 16, 2016:
  - a. Names and contact information (telephone and email) of individuals who coordinated the search.
  - b. Names of the offices/components/units searched.
  - c. Using the terms of the Argentinian request attached under TAB B, identify relevant Component records.
  - d. Email results to osd.mc-alex.dod-cio.mbx.records\_datacall@mail.mil
4. Ensure responsive information under your authority or control is preserved and maintained. Document and report to this office the inadvertent or suspected loss of any potentially responsive material.
5. Complete a review of the material identified for public release and provide all responsive documents, with results (to include TAB C), via CD to the mailing address below, no later than March 1, 2017. This address is cleared to receive up to "Top Secret" Information. The review should include privacy considerations, declassification results, and any recommendations for referrals. All packages are to be double-wrapped (inner envelope, Attn: PATTI BENNER, Mark Center, Suite 11E08), and mailed to the address provided below:

DoD CIO SECURITY
6000 DEFENSE PENTAGON (ROOM 3C1057)

SUBJECT: Argentina Declassification Project

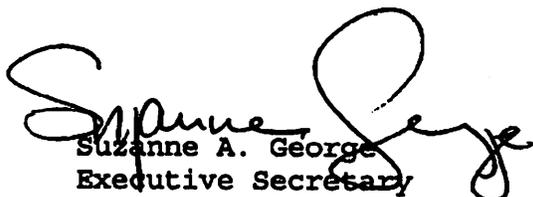

The Administration continues to support efforts to clarify the facts surrounding human rights abuses, acts of terrorism, and political violence in Argentina during the "Dirty War" period from 1975 through 1984. The Clinton Administration began this effort through a commitment by then-Secretary of State Madeleine Albright to review Department of State cables for declassification. Former Secretary of State Colin Powell continued the work on this project and, in 2002, provided approximately 4,700 declassified cables to the Government of Argentina.

The Administration is committed to continuing and expanding this declassification effort, to include documents from the Intelligence Community, law enforcement departments and agencies, the military, the National Archives and Records Administration, State, and the U.S. Agency for International Development. In response to a personal request from Argentine President Mauricio Macri, the President announced his intention to undertake this project while on an official visit to Argentina, noting "we have a responsibility to confront the past with honesty and transparency."

In support of the President's commitment, your department or agency is asked to prioritize support for this effort consistent with further direction from the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) and National Security Council (NSC) staff. Your department or agency is asked to review responsive records for declassification and public access, in accordance with section 3 of Executive Order 13526, "Classified National Security Information."

DNI will coordinate all public access review of third agency referrals. The point of contact at DNI is Jennifer Hudson, Director, Information Management Division. She can be reached at (703) 874-8085 or via email at Jennifer.Hudson@dni.gov. The NSC staff point of contact is John Fitzpatrick, Senior Director for Records, Access, and Information Security Management. He can be reached at (202) 456-9222 or via email at JFitzpatrick@nsc.eop.gov. Further details on the scope, standards for review and release, schedule, and tasks will be provided by DNI and NSC staff.

Argentina Declassification Project

Tasking Information and Schedule

This paper provides additional detail and information needed for agencies to support this project. It is intended to support the June 13, 2016 Memorandum from Suzanne A. George, NSC Executive Secretary, on this topic.

Scope

It is intended that this project apply to all Intelligence Community agencies and components, the Department of Defense and its components, the Department of Justice, the National Archives and the Presidential Libraries, the Department of State and the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Agencies should conduct a detailed search of their documents and records series, documenting those series and keywords searched. Attached at Tab A is a list of search terms and supporting information intended to assist agencies in the identification and retrieval of documents for declassification review that shed light on human rights abuses, terrorism, and acts of political violence between January 1, 1975 and December 31, 1984. This list of search terms is not meant to be all-inclusive but is meant to serve as a guide to aid comprehensive searches. Attached at Tab B is a list prepared by the Department of State's Historian's Office. It represents the various archival collections and series their historians used to compile the Latin America volumes for the Foreign Relations of the United States series. Agencies are encouraged to use this aid, if applicable, and utilize additional search strategies tailored to their specific missions and record-keeping systems -- and thus likely to surface relevant materials in their individual collections.

Agency staff conducting searches should err on the side of inclusiveness and provide all documents pertaining to human rights abuses related to Argentina. Additionally, the Records Access and Information Security Interagency Policy Committee (RAIS IPC) has identified four other tasks to make this project as thorough as possible. These other tasks are:

UNCLASSIFIED

[DocumentFooter]

- Search for, identify, and review for public access responsive records from the Ford, Carter, Reagan and George H.W. Bush Presidential Libraries;
- Search for, identify, and review for public access responsive portions from the President's Daily Brief from the Ford, Carter, and Reagan administrations;
- Re-review documents previously excised or exempted from the State Department's 2002 Argentina Declassification Project to determine if additional information can be publicly released; and
- Prioritize the Argentina and Regional chapters of the Foreign Relations of the United States (FRUS) 1977-1981 South America volume for expedited publication.

Standards for Review and Release

In reviewing documents, the President has directed that agencies release as much information as possible. Public disclosure is in the foreign policy interest of the United States. Agencies are directed to release all relevant information except the following: information that continues to meet the standards for national security classification under Executive order 13526, "Classified National Security Information" ("the Order"), information the release of which is prohibited by statute, information the release of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy, sensitive law enforcement information, or information which would cause serious and identifiable harm to the deliberative process.

This public access review should be conducted on a word-for-word basis, and not based on a pass/fail review. Agencies should consult publicly available sources and conduct additional research as part of its public access review process. Agencies should also consider, as acts of discretion under Section 3.1(d) of the Order, whether information that normally would be protected should be disclosed as disclosure is in the public interest.

Schedule and Interagency Coordination

The overall goal is to complete all public access review by December 2017. Within this timeframe, agencies should complete the following actions by the deadlines established below. This proposed schedule may be modified, depending on the overall volume of records identified by agencies as potentially responsive.

As noted in the Tasking Memorandum to agencies, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) will coordinate all public access review of third-agency referrals in accordance with section 3 of the Order. The NSC and ODNI will co-host periodic interagency meetings to monitor progress and to resolve any questions or challenges that arise during implementation.

The point of contact at ODNI is: Jennifer Hudson, Chief, Information Management and Data Group. She can be reached at (703) 874-8085 or via email at Jennifer.Hudson@dni.gov. The five tasks and associated deadlines are:

Task 1: Make U.S. Government Documents Available to the Public

Agencies search their records and records series to identify potentially responsive documents by September 30, 2016.

Agencies provide detailed list of potentially responsive documents to the NSC, as chair of the RAIS IPC, and ODNI by September 30, 2016.

Agencies conduct public access review, make determinations on their equity information and provide documents and determinations to the ODNI by March 31, 2017.

Agencies receive equity referrals from the ODNI, conduct public access review and make public access determinations on them, and provide this information to the ODNI by August 31, 2017.

The ODNI completes all quality control processes, compiles the public release versions of the documents onto a CD (or other appropriate media) and provides copies to agencies by November 30, 2017.

The Department of State provides the Government of Argentina with CDs of declassified documents by December 15, 2017.

Agencies make the declassified documents available on their website by December 30, 2017.

Task 2: Make Presidential Libraries Documents Available to the Public

The four Presidential Libraries (Ford, Carter, Reagan, and George H.W. Bush) search for, identify, and provide copies of potentially responsive records to the NSC by July 31, 2016.

The NSC completes its declassification review and provides them to the ODNI. The ODNI coordinates the referral review of these documents by providing them to equity-owning agencies. Agencies complete their public access review and provide the ODNI with their determinations by October 30, 2016.

The ODNI completes all quality control processes, compiles the public release versions on a CD (or other suitable media) and provides copies to the Presidential Libraries and the Department of State. The Presidential Libraries make the declassified documents available on their websites by December 30, 2016.

The Department of State provides the Government of Argentina with CDs of declassified documents by December 30, 2016.

Task 3: Make Responsive Portions of the PDB Available to the Public

The CIA searches for, identifies, and conducts discretionary public access review, including any referrals to other agencies, on potentially responsive portions of the President's Daily Brief from the Ford, Carter, and Reagan administrations by July 31, 2016.

The CIA makes copies of the declassified documents available to the public on its website by September 30, 2016.

Task 4: Make Previously Withheld Documents Available to the Public

The State Department compiles documents that were withheld from public access in 2002. It conducts a public access review for those withheld or exempted portions, identifies withheld equity information belonging to other agencies and provides this information to the ODNI by June 30, 2016.

The ODNI coordinates the review of these documents by providing them to equity-owning agencies for their review. Agencies complete their public access review and provide the ODNI with their determinations by September 30, 2016.

The ODNI completes all quality control processes, compiles the public release versions on a CD (or other suitable media) and provides copies to the State Department by November 30, 2016.

The Department of State provides the Government of Argentina with CDs of declassified documents by December 30, 2016.

The State Department make the declassified documents available on its website by December 30, 2016.

Task 5: Make the 1977-81 FRUS South America Volume Available to the Public

The Historian's Office at the State Department refers the manuscript of FRUS, 1977-1981, South America to agencies for declassification review by June 30, 2016.

Agencies expedite the declassification review of two chapters, Argentina and Regional Issues, and complete their review by August 31, 2016.

The Historian's Office submits these two chapters for typesetting by September 30, 2016.

The Historian's Office publishes these two chapters as a compilation on its website by September 30, 2017.

Agencies complete the declassification review of the remaining nine chapters by October 31, 2016.

The Historian's Office submits the remaining nine chapters for typesetting by December 30, 2016.

The Historian's Office publishes the entire volume on its website by December 30, 2017.
