1. While visiting his mother for TET [redacted] on 30 January 1968, [redacted] heard that Viet Cong (VC) had come to the village. He immediately boarded a bus at 1200 hours. VC stopped the bus along Route 5, and abducted [redacted] and 12 other people. The VC then led them to a village whose name [redacted] did not know, where a 200-man VC group was quartered. [redacted] saw rifles, but did not know their make. The 200-man unit moved out on 31 January with [redacted] and the 12 other impressed people carrying the ammunition in wooden boxes. The group moved to the PHU DINH area.
